Youth Who Choked Girl to Death To Wed Another Jailed

Mystery Veiling Finding of Decomposed Body Cleared When Michigan Pair Confesses Heinous Crime

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Aug. 12.—"I saw him choke her, but I didn't know he was killing her."

Thus did Florence McKinney admit her knowledge of the crime of her fiancé, Emil Zupke, who confessed he murdered Cora Haber "at Cora's request," so that he would be free to marry Florence.

Miss Haber was to become a mother.

Miss McKinney held

Miss McKinney is being held at the Berrien county jail here, although no definite charges have been made against her. She is the daughter of a farmer near here.

Sheriff George C. Bridgman took Zupke and Miss McKinney today over the road leading to the lonely thick at 12 miles south of here where the Haber girl's partially decomposed body was found Sunday.

"The murder was last Wednesday night," Miss McKinney said in her statement made public by the sheriff.

"Emil drove to my home in a roadster. Cora was in the car. He said he had to take her to Gallen and wanted me to go along."

PAT NEFF MAY OPEN UP FAIR

Formal invitation sent today to Texas Governor

Governor Pat M. Neff will probably be the principal speaker at the opening of the Port Arthur Fair association next September. 23, President Gene Clifford today sending the governor a formal invitation and stating he had learned the executive would probably have an open date at that time.

A meeting this morning of fair officials at the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping resulted in a number of constructive announcements being made definite. It was decided the six days of the fair should be officially designated and that on Port Arthur Day the business houses would be asked to close for half day. A Jefferson county, Beaumont, Nederland, Port Neches, Sabine and Orange day will also be observed. Manager Burge said it might be necessary to overlap some of the day designations.

Special Band Concert

A water carnival in which some of the fastest speed boats in this section will be assembled will be one of the features of entertainment. Fireworks each night will lead an air of revelry and carnival. One night will be devoted to the inauguration of the queen of the fair, with princesses and maids of honor from south Texas and Louisiana as attendants. This according to women members of the board of fair, will be the biggest social event in the history of Port Arthur.

The style show will be a miniature exposition within itself and will be the result of careful planning for months. Heads of local stores now on buying trips in the east are making purchases for the style show imminent. The auto show is expected to have every representative car with all models on exhibit throughout the exposition.

A catalogue of prizes and entries will be published probably this month and distributed so as to allow everybody in this section an opportunity to make entries.

ROBBED

Bandits Hold Up Bank at Independence

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., August 12.—Five bandits held up the First National bank here today and escaped with $1000 cash.

Ten customers and employees were lined up against the wall. While two bandits covered them with pistols, two others rifled the paying tellers' cage. A fifth waited outside in an automobile.

They fled toward Kansas City.

Pay Off or Shut Off, Say Water Men

The "cut-off" men of the city water department started out this morning with a long list of names of customers who have failed to pay their water rent and with instructions to show no mercy in stopping the water supply of those who owe the city for this necessity.

By noon a total of 20 names had been turned in of those who had been visited by the "cut-off" men. Those owing water rent are asked to call at the city hall and pay up as it costs $2 to have the water turned on again, officials say.

Hizzoner, the Mayor, Gets Philosophical

HIZZONER, the mayor, became semi-philosophical this morning.

He was musing over an old tattered city charter of 1912—only 12 years old, and yet hopelessly obsolete today with its provisions about horses, buggies, hitching racks and what not.

"Yes, sir, 12 years ago I remember the paper actually carried a story something like this: 'The latest thing in automobiles in Port Arthur is an automobile bought by J. P. Logan—a Ford. I guess maybe there were 300 cars in Port Arthur then.'

"I wonder if everybody will have airplanes in 10 years from now. Just think of it!"

SAYS 'TRUTH TO COME OUT SOON'

Mayor Says Commission Making Case 'Airtight'

Words flew back and forth from typewriters at the city hall this morning in the city clerk's tangle. But no action was taken. The commission did not meet, and Commissioner Wade was not expected to return his fishing trip for several days.

Major Logan said the commission stood ready to discharge City Clerk E. H. Miles and indicated that there was being taken to make an airtight case against Miles.

Regarding his charge that Miles had exerted undue influence in the framing of the original civil service ordinance in 1922, the mayor said that he did not "care to vex the citizenship by such a controversy," and added that "the truth of my statement will be brought out at the proper time."

"Pls." For Miles

The commission's delay, Logan said in a statement issued today, due to "city for the man" and also to "knowing the attitude of the Port Arthur Daily News, which would play up the matter and disgust the citizenship."

Miles came forth with another statement today asking for an expression from City Attorney Whistler as to whether or not he (Miles) had used any influence in the framing of the original civil service ordinance. Only two persons could possibly testify, Miles said, these being Whistler and Commissioner A. A. Potter, now deceased.

"Pretended soft heartedness" on the part of Logan was denounced by Miles and his "sympathy" was requested to be withheld until asked for.

Mayor Logan's statement follows: "To start with, I have no statement to make. I shall try to avoid

BRIDGE TO BE OPERATING SOON

Electrical Specialty Company Repairs Broken Leaf

The bridge to the Pleasure Pier and to Gates beach will be in operation tomorrow and possibly tonight, bridgekeepers said this morning. The bridge was opened last night to accommodate the crowd—the large leaf electrically, the small leaf by hand.

The electric specialty company, which was awarded the contract by the city to install a separate motor system to operate the small leaf of the bridge from the east side, started work today and electricians were hoping the job would be finished up today. Work is being done under the direction of Glenn Jenkins.

Use of two motor systems to operate the bridge will eliminate the danger of ships tearing loose, submarine electric cable at the present low water stage of the canal. Last Sunday the canal is said to have been two and one-half feet below its usual level.

RESERVATIONS FOR FAIR BOOTHS ON SALE SOON

Reservations for booths for the Port Arthur Fair will go on sale at 8:30 Thursday morning at the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping, the concessions committee announced today following a three day meeting.

Earl Mullen, chairman of the committee, stated the booths will be sold on the "first come, first served" basis, and no choice locations are being held away for anybody. A complete diagram of the floor space has been finally been completed and those to exhibit can get a good idea from this of the arrangement to be followed, committee members say.

STATE REFUTES MENTAL DISEASE

Examination of Loeb May 21 Proved Negative

DEFENSE ATTACKED

Crowe Starts Web to Enmesh Slayers

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—"There was no evidence of mental disease in Richard Loeb on May 21," Dr. Hugh T. Patrick, state alienist, stated positively in court today at the judicial hearing of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb for the murder of Robert Frank.

Striving to break down the defense case of "diseased functioning of the mind," the prosecution today took Dr. Patrick carefully along the line of the defense evidence in an effort to disprove every statement put forward "in mitigation of punishment."

Formed An Opinion

John Starkins, assistant state attorney, asked Dr. Patrick whether he had formed an opinion of Loeb, taking into consideration the statement of the defense that the defendant was immature, and three baby teeth, a light growth of hair on the body, was forced to share only once or twice a week, was subject to fainting spells, tremors of the hands and face and "whose basic metabolism was minus 12."

"Yes, I have," the witness replied. "What is that opinion?"

"I saw no evidence of a mental disease," the witness answered, "unless one were to consider the commission of a crime as evidence of a mental disease."

"Main Case of Murder"

Starkins directed other assumptions to his hypothetical question, each time asking Dr. Patrick whether he had an opinion regarding Loeb's mental condition in the light of the various assumptions.

Each time Dr. Patrick replied that he had formed an opinion that "Robert Frank was murdered and that his reason was insufficient to induce mental disorder."

"Dr. Patrick, a little man, with a scrubby mustache and twinkling eyes, disarmed with a wave of the hand and a disarming smile the theories of abnormality presented by the defense."

"It has been testified that the boys fled," Starkins said, "is there anything abnormal about that?"

"No, that's absolutely normal," Dr. Patrick said.

DEPOSITORY TO BE CHOSEN SOON

Action Expected Early Next Week, Reported

Action by the city commission on the city depository contract is expected early next week, although commissioners have maintained silence on the status of the city depository since bids were opened last month.

One year will have elapsed Saturday since award of the depository contract for a year to the First National bank. The commission does not meet Saturday, but is expected to take immediate action next week. Officials of Seaboard State Bank and Trust company, one of the bidders, said today that they expected action early next week.

The Seaboard bid three per cent interest on the average daily balance of the city, while the First National bank bid two per cent. The First National bank is now paying three per cent under contract of Aug. 10, 1923, winning out over a bid of two and three-fourths per cent made by the Merchants National bank last year. The Seaboard was not a bidder last year.

Johnson Refuses Seat in Nell's Cabinet

AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—Felix F. Johnson, chief of the blue sky division of the state department, appointed last Saturday as secretary of state to succeed S. L. Staples who was named as state treasurer to take the place of C. V. Terrell, appointed railroad commissioner, declined the offer.

Johnson, who was named as state treasurer to take the place of C. V. Terrell, appointed railroad commissioner, declined the offer.

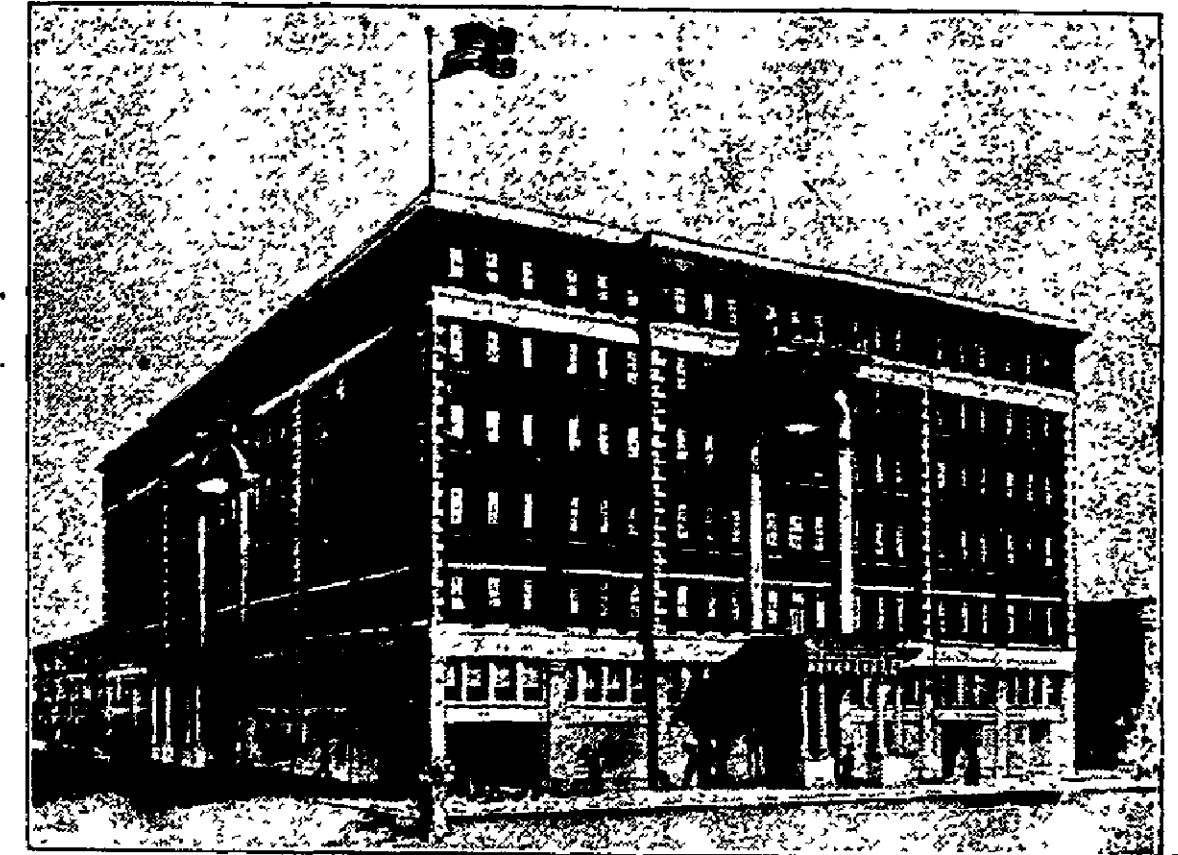

Other cities are said to have sponsored such projects with great success and it is believed the idea would be received well here.

It is planned to have the program on either the roof garden of the Fifth street Methodist church or the lawn of the First Baptist church. Final disposition of the question will be made at the next directors meeting of the league, officials said today.

New Adams Building to Be Erected Here

The building will be erected on the corner of Austin avenue and Fifth street, opposite the government building, and will house a number of Port Arthur business establishments.

To Open Bids on Building Soon

STRUCTURE TO COST $700,000

Contract for Adams Building To Be Let, Also

Bids will be opened and contracts awarded for Port Arthur's new metropolitan building on next Monday, August 18, when prices and specifications from Port Arthur and Beaumont contractors will be considered for the six-story building to be erected at corner of Fifth and Austin streets by John R. Adams, local capitalist and business man.

The structure, which, when completed, is estimated will cost at least $700,000, will be modern in every particular, according to H. C. Maner, Beaumont architect who drew the plans. The bottom floor will be occupied by the John R. Adams Grocery company on the Fifth street opening. The Hodges Dry Goods company will occupy the lower first floor on the Austin street opening.

Start Work in October

Construction operations are scheduled to begin about October 1 and about a year is expected needed for completion. A soil test for the basement levels will be made early in the summer.

Excellent, according to the architect. Every preliminary investigation and preparation for the erection of the structure was made by Adams, long time recognized in this section as one of the most astute business men.

Adams is now in Texarkana on his vacation and will be gone about ten days, it was learned today. It is understood preparations for the building will be carried on by those he left in charge during Adams' absence.

Exterior Ornamented

The building's exterior will be ornamental and of most modern business design, purely American style architecture predominating.

The structure will be 140 feet in width, extending to middle alley on the Austin street block and 130 feet in depth on the Fifth street side.

There will be a basement which will be used for storage purposes, mainly by the Adams company. The second floor will be a mezzanine.

The remainder of the building will be used for offices and these will be equipped with modern lighting, heating, cooling and water conveniences. The building as a whole will be of reinforced concrete and entirely fireproof.

YMBL May Conduct Educational Meetings

Open air civic entertainment and educational meetings may begin here semi-monthly shortly under the direction of the Young Men's Business League, officials announced today following a meeting of the directorate Monday night when the question was discussed.

That various civic units of the city could be in charge of such programs and the entire citizenship encouraged to attend is the idea of the Y. M. B. L.

Other cities are said to have sponsored such projects with great success and it is believed the idea would be received well here.

It is planned to have the program on either the roof garden of the Fifth street Methodist church or the lawn of the First Baptist church. Final disposition of the question will be made at the next directors meeting of the league, officials said today.

Rising Tide of Liquor Hits Washington; Puts Prohi Sleuths on Run

Tuxedoed Agents With Stiff Starched Shirts, Diamond Studs Haunt Capital's Fashionable Rendezvous

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—A rising tide of liquor has hit the nation's capital and officials from Commissioner Hayes down are standardized.

More than 100 drunken persons have been arrested on the streets within the last few days. 15 citizens have been arrested in a rum run around up and scores of arrests have been made in fashionable hotel room garden dancing places.

Policemen Made Deputies

The rum wave has spread so rapidly that police and detectives have been made United States deputies so that they can begin—according to announcement today—"a big drive to dry up Washington."

Tuxedoed agents with stiff starched shirts and diamond studs haunt the exclusive dancing restaurants nightly and arrest young boys and girls with hip flasks filled with gin.

Scores have been taken but most of them were released because of faulty arrest, or they forfeited collateral without going to trial.

Apartment Houses Raided

Six private apartment houses have been raided recently and men and women charged with possession and sale of liquor.

Only a few bootleggers have been taken, the drive being concentrated chiefly against whisky drinkers.

The association against the prohibition amendment issued a scathing condemnation of the restaurant raids charging that the agents had begun their tactics during the summer when congress is adjourned "possibly because they fear such raids in winter might result in the arrest of dry congressmen or senators who don't vote as they drink."

Willard's Warden Came, Saw, But Didn't Conquer, And Paid $2.50 to Learn

The best "fish story" of the season was related by fishermen returning from Willard's lake several days ago.

A deputy game warden who has caused the arrest of many persons for violating the game laws was talking with friends near Village Creek and offered to demonstrate just how he obtained evidence for the arrest of a young negro who was walking toward him and he had in his hand a good sized catfish.

"Here, boys," called the warden, "let's have a look at that fish." The boy advanced toward him and offered the fish for his approval. Finally the warden said, "Would you like to sell it?" The boy hesitated, said he did not know how much the fish was worth and didn't know whether he wanted to sell it or not.

The warden became impatient, and in order to make a quick sale said, "Here, I'll give you $2.00 for that fish." The boy delighted at the prospect of disposing of the fish at so much more than its actual value, jumped at the chance and assured the warden the fish was his.

The prospective purchaser then tendered the negro a $5 bill and told him to get the change. In a few minutes he returned $2.50 to the game warden and kept the balance.

The purchaser took the fish and then smiling broadly, said, "Boy, guess you don't know who I am, I'm the game warden." He also hastened to explain that it was against the law to sell fish without a permit. The young negro, however, did not seem surprised at the interpretation but agreed, "Yes, sir, I know it, but I got my license with me." He promptly pulled the license from his pocket and exhibited it to the warden.

Friends, who at the instance of the warden had stayed to see how he managed to make so many arrests, took the matter as a joke, but not so the arresting officer. He indignantly demanded that the boy give him his $2.50 back. This he refused to do, declaring that he had not wanted to sell the fish in the first place, that the purchaser had set the price of the fish, that it was sold and that was all there was to it. He therefore bid the arresting officer and his $2.50 catfish goodbye.

Nederland, according to the petition to the court. Mazzard sued Harris, alleging that the business had suffered and asked for a dissolution of partnership.

The application for injunction set forth that Harris had moved the goods from the furniture store from Nederland to Sibley and was seeking to dispose of them. Hearing on the injunction has been set for Friday.

FINANCIAL REVIEW
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Action of the stock market indicating that its technical position had been strengthened by the reaction on Tuesday afternoon. Stocks showed a firm tone all through the session and several issues were advanced decidedly. There is now said to be a larger short interest in the market than at any time since the upward movement began.

Weekly steel trade reviews showed a further upward trend in sales and operations with average production of the industry running close to fifty per cent. A stronger tone in the pig iron market was also reported.

Renewed profit taking was announced in the last half hour. The constant recession was active and the market although declining showed no evidence of pressure to sell. Steel continued to trade above its morning low and Baldwin the greater part of its earlier gain.

Coroner's Verdict Is Withheld for Time

Coroner's verdict in the case of R. F. Modglin, 31, found dead late Tuesday afternoon by his daughter in a garage at the rear of his residence, 2333 Procter street, with photo by the nearby is being withheld for the present by Justice W. F. James, called to hold the inquest.

Modglin, well known here for years and a stillman for the Texas Company, was believed by his family to have gotten up at 4:30 Tuesday morning as usual, cooked his breakfast and gone on to work. Late in the afternoon one of the daughters went out to the garage to get some oil to build a fire, preparatory to cooking the evening meal for Modglin.

The body of her father was found outstretched on the garage floor by the daughter. It had probably been there for 12 hours, officers believe.

PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS
(Pier Railway Company)

The Port Arthur Traction Company was organized in the State of Texas in 1910, with an original capitalization of $300,000.00, which was a short time later increased to $400,000.00. The stock is owned in part locally.

The service of the Port Arthur Traction Company was rendered to practically three million people in 1923. They own twenty-one cars and operate them about nine hundred miles daily, on seven and one-half miles of track, which is also owned by the company. It is expected, however, on account of Port Arthur's rapid growth that more facilities for operation will have to be acquired in the not distant future. The lines are in operation from five o'clock in the morning until twelve o'clock midnight.

There are about sixty men employed in this organization, at the present time, a large majority of whom are married and own their homes. Many of the present employees of the Company have been in its continuous service for ten years.

The average payroll of the Traction Company amounts to $5,000 a month.

This is the third of a series of articles devoted to the INDUSTRIAL-COMMERCIAL-FINANCIAL progress of Port Arthur and vicinity. Other articles will appear each Wednesday.

RICE FALLS OFF IN LOUISIANA

Crop Conditions in July Show Small Loss

The condition of the rice crop in Louisiana fell off 10 per cent during July, and the condition is 7.8 per cent below the 10-year average on August 1, according to the monthly report issued today by L. L. Jones, agricultural statistician for Louisiana, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

According to the average of the reports of a large number of well-informed rice growers in all parts of the state, the condition of the growing crop on August 1 was 80 per cent of a normal. This compares with 90 per cent July 1, 1924; 87 per cent August 1, 1923; 88 per cent August 1, 1922; 80 per cent August 1, 1921, and with 87.8 per cent the 10-year average of condition on August 1.

A condition of 80 per cent on August 1, forecasts a probable average yield per acre of approximately 31.2 bushels and a total probable production of 15,132,000 bushels for the state. In 1923, the average yield per acre was 33 bushels, and the production was 15,840,000 bushels; in 1922 the production was 16,980,000 bushels; 1921, 17,250,000 bushels. The 10-year average of production is 17,390,000 bushels. The average yield per acre for the past 10 years is 32.3 bushels.

The final output will probably be larger or smaller than 15,132,000 bushels according as growing conditions hereafter are better or worse than average conditions.

The cause of this almost unprecedented drop in the condition of the rice crop, is the prolonged drought which has been especially severe in the heavy rice producing territory.

Makes Great Directorial Comeback

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 13.—Sunday night, in directing the new Norma Talmadge picture, "The Trouble Shooter," for that work is certain.

The four picture pictures were "The Old New York," "The Humming Bird," "The Green Goddess," and "Monsieur Beaucaire," respectively starring: Marion Davies, Gloria Swanson, George Arlson and Rodolph Valentino. Five big ones in a row. Each paying him a handsome figure.

A little over a year ago he was almost flat of purse. By way of going into the director.

When Harold's Cosmopolitan film business found his rather obscure business in New York and left a note requesting an audience. O'Keefe thought someone was attempting a joke in rather poor taste. He said as much, attempting to conceal his amusement, when they paid a second call to ascertain why he hadn't responded.

That paved the "Little Old New York" engagement. It paved the way to one of the most remarkable comebacks in filmdom.

O'Keefe and his various recent employers discovered that the considerable lapse of his active directorial life had in no wise impaired his sense of picture value or the canny comprehension of drama evident in his previous productions. They had on the contrary been sharpened with the acquisition of a few extra gray hairs and a touch of anxiety as to his future.

My greatest satisfaction in resuming work and in the flattering things my friends have been saying about me," he commented on the Talmadge set. "Is that my experience may possibly be better than some of the directors who feel that they have gone into the discard or are about to."

Peacock: Tom Mix in "The Trouble Shooter."

Green Tree: "Icebound," and comedy "The Speeders."

AT THE PEOPLES

Miss Murray comes to the Peoples theatre today in her latest picture, "Monsieur Beaucaire." The story, written by Carl Harbaugh and John Russell, concerns the daughter of a Mexican ranch owner, who is afflicted with an odd midnight madness. With this as a premise, the film works up to many thrilling moments. Miss Murray has an opportunity to wear gowns of the Spanish style and she introduces some sensational dances.

Monte Blue heads the supporting cast, which also includes Robert McKim, Robert Edison, John Salapols, Oita Harlan, Nigel de Brulier, and Nick de Ruiz. Oliver T. Marsh was the photographer. "Monsieur Beaucaire" is presented by Tiffany Productions, of which M. H. Hoffman is general manager and Robert Z. Leonard, director general.

AT THE CAMEO

"Missing Daughters," which begins a three-day run at the Cameo theatre today, tells a tale of the successful efforts of the United States Secret Service to shatter a vicious band of slavers who prey upon the frailties of foolish virgins.

A wicked web is woven about the victims: murders become numerous; crime goes rampant, and the arch-villain, in the end, receives a leaden pellet through a heart seared with sorrow for his own "Missing Daughter," as his wages of sin.

The story is told in the vernacular of the underworld, and the infamy of the mysterious caverns of society is depicted by a cast including Rockliffe Fellows, Eva Novak, Robert Edison and others.

AT THE LIBERTY

"The Inside of the White Slave Proctor," Ad.

Traffic begins a two day run today at the Liberty and deals with a subject which makes it truly a moral and purpose picture.

The picture ran for 601 days in nearly two years straight in Los Angeles. Officials of the United States department of justice watched its production and checked up on it. It was true to life. Mrs. William Vanderbilt seeing the possibilities in making a great moral uplift picture behind the production.

"If one girl can be saved, the millions spent in research and final production of the picture will be profitable," Mrs. Vanderbilt says.

THE MIRACLE MAKERS

Fred Norton and Doris Mansfield had been sweethearts since childhood days. Fred had enlisted in the government air service and had been assigned to watch the coast for smuggling. Capt. Joe Mansfield, Doris' father, was in need of money, so he accepted Bill Bruce's proposition to smuggle some Chinese into this country. Doris followed, fearing all was not right and secreted herself aboard The Vaquero.

Fred got on the trail of the ship, and Bruce wanted to throw the cargo overboard to save his own skin. Doris revealed herself and refused to let him do so. She agreed to signal falsely to Fred to save her father. Fred reported to headquarters, "Vaquero above suspicion."

Bruce took the girl ashore with the cargo and locked Capt. Joe in a cabin. At the Chinese opium den, the terminal for the cargo, Bruce forced the girl to marry him. Capt. Joe broke out and, with the aid of the police, raided the den and rescued Doris. They agreed that no one at home must ever know the affair.

Doris broke her engagement to Fred, who immediately got himself transferred and left for France. A baby was born to Doris and every one accused Fred.

Five years passed, until the day that Bruce was released from jail, and Fred came back from France. Bruce started at once to find his wife. He met Capt. Joe in the main street of the little town and a terrible fight ensued in which Capt. Joe was badly beaten.

When Bruce learned from Doris that he had a son, his whole nature changed and he was sorry for the many wrongs that he had done her and her father. Joe pursued Bruce with a shot-gun, followed by a large crowd. In order to get away from the danger, Bruce fled, but tumbled down a well. His back was broken in the fall and rescue was useless. His last request was to hear his son say "Good-bye, Dad."

With the clouds all cleared away the love and understanding between Fred and Doris soon returned and it was not long before they were able to be married.

Fashionable Women Choose Their Furs During Midsummer

SOME of the smartest next season's furs will set women to dreaming of how lovely they will look when the thermometer starts going down again.

For the young woman, especially she of brunette tresses, there is a leopard coat in the smart, short full-length style with sumptuous collar, cuffs and hem band of white fox that is soft and feathery as snow flakes. It is sketched at the left.

Next, the smart tailored coat of antique fits the slim feminine figure almost as snugly as it did the graceful creature it grew out of. The binding is of heavy brown grain. Antelope promises to be one of the season's most popular furs.

Can you imagine an evening cape of white ermine, full length, and on top of that a finger tip cape also of white ermine trimmed with a volute black-tipped tails and then a voluptuous collar? It's a brain fit for a queen, and it, like Brian O'Lyons, you want to wear the fleecy side in. It will be almost as pretty with its soft, yellow velvet lining on the outside.

A luxurious oblong of the popular barouduki is thrown over the shoulder to go fashion. The lining is of gold crepe, hand tucked and quilted in cross stitch.

The cable cape, the most costly, wraps around the figure in exquisite simplicity. The lining of cream chiffon is hand painted with gay balloons against a background of green leaves.

Fashion Decrees Simpler Shoe Styles

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—You might as well start in now and wear out all your pumps with the fancy open-work sections and the designs in fancy leather.

For style authorities say we are going to revert to the plainest of shoe styles, and that the oxford, long dejected, is to be with us again.

This may be part of the propaganda to force gowns to be more elaborate. Recently we have worn fancy shoes, largely because dresses were so very plain and simple. Any elaboration could only come in the footwear because hats and dresses would have none of it.

More Subdued

With elaborate gowns, however, footwear must be subdued. Therefore for fall we find the tailored oxford or buttoned oxford of kid for wear with tailored costumes and the opera, colonial, or the one-strap pump for dress wear.

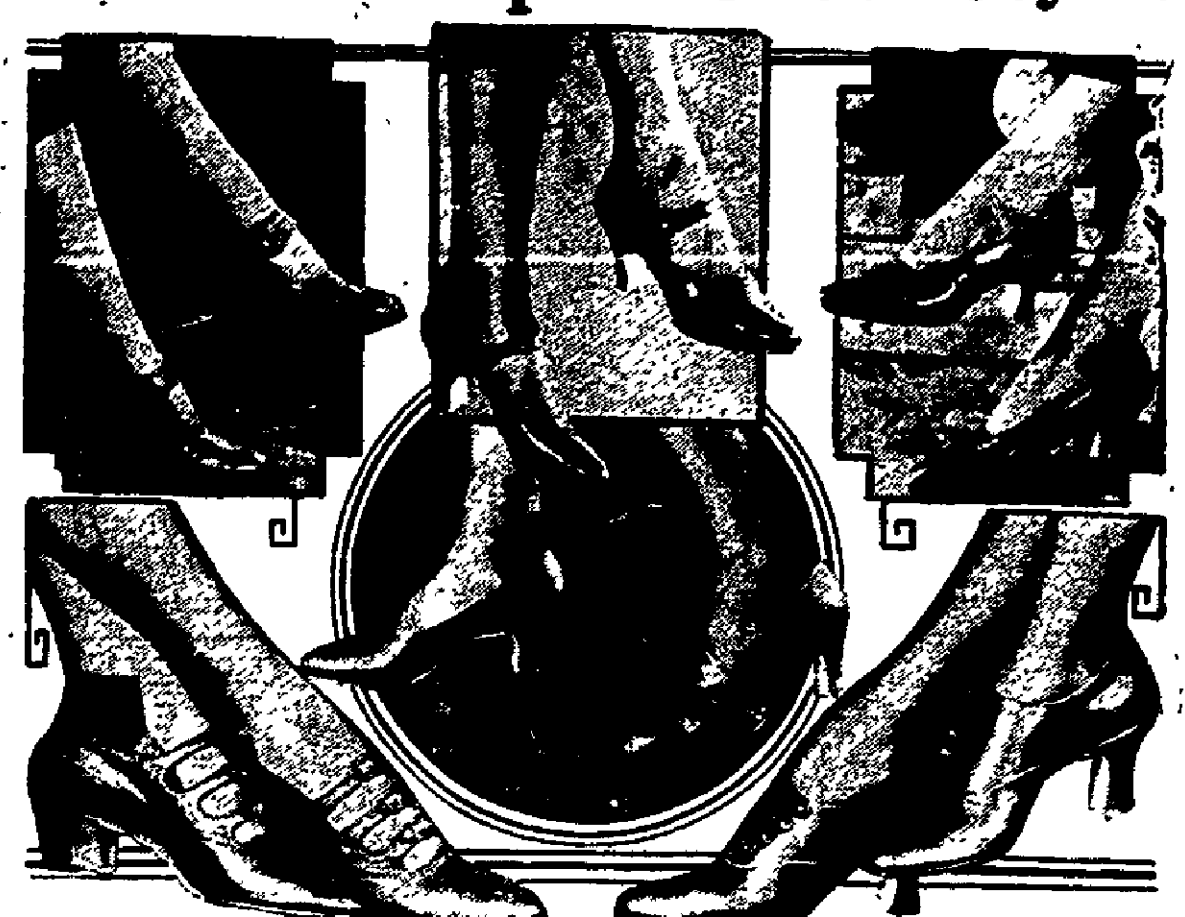

Suede is said to be less fashionable than it has been, patent leather is holding its own, but soft kid is coming to the front as the most popular leather. It is liked not only in brown and black, but in bronze and the beige tones.

With plainer pumps there is also to be a return to more conservative colors. The burnt orange and flesh tints that have been so common will give way to gun metal, brown and very sheer black.

No Exaggeration

The vamp is neither long nor short. The whole idea is to keep the foot in proportion to the body. Heels on oxfords may be low or a modified Spanish, and those on pumps may be low or French, but there are no exaggerated high heels, or extremely curved ones.

Shoe dealers are going to inaugurate a campaign for appropriateness.

FANCY SHOES ARE GOING OUT OF STYLE. HERE ARE SOME OF THE PLAINER VARIETIES, WHICH ARE COMING BACK TO FAVOR.

Their hope to impress upon women the desirability of keeping trim and fabric models strictly for evening or dress wear and to make kid or patent leather the only correct thing for street.

Prince Is Coming Back, But Not to Many Functions He Was Accorded on First Trip

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Edward, Prince of Wales, the most captivating bit of young royalty in modern times, is coming back to Washington for an hour—just what a contrast to the days of entertainment that marked his last visit here.

Subdued hearts fluttered, for there were dances and receptions and dinners and a dinner with a royal prince was a delicious prospect. Fortunately matrons of the ultra "cliff dwelling" set found the chance to cap their social career with a tea or dinner for the heir to the British throne—a feat to shed glory on the name through all future generations.

Luncheon En Famille

But, this time—the White House says there will be only a luncheon in family—at once the highest mark of respect to royalty and a mark of respect to young Calum, Jr., who died so recently a month ago—and perhaps an informal reception. Even that isn't certain.

According to tentative plans, however, the reception would be restricted to members of the cabinet, their wives, high officials of the army and navy and a few of the cream of Washington society.

Preparations already are under way for the official reception to be given the prince.

At the war department today, it was announced that orders had been issued for a choice troop of cavalry to meet the prince upon his arrival at the Union station and escort him to the White House.

Evansville May Become Shrine of Service Men

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 13.—As the outgrowth of a plan sponsored by The American Legion to erect a monument over the grave of James Bethel Greham, the first American to be killed in the World War, who is buried here, Evansville may be the site of an international shrine dedicated to the memory of soldiers who gave their lives in the World War.

The plan calls for the city's largest park as a shrine, a center of the park a monument costing $1,000,000 would be erected to Greham, and surrounding it, each state in the Union would be invited to erect a smaller memorial bearing the name of the first hero of the state to die in the World War. Each nation allied with America would also be invited to erect a monument to its first fallen.

Miss Helen Johnson of Boston, Mass., is visiting with friends in the city.

U. of Chicago Has Meat Packing Course

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The polite professors and the meat packing industry may not seem to have much in common. But the University of Chicago and the Institute of American Meat Packers have decided they have enough in common to warrant combining them under one course at the university.

A four-year college course for young men who intend to enter the packing industry will be offered by the university campus October 1.

Under the new plan students may enter residence courses and obtain a degree of Ph. D. It is provided that after the sixth quarter of academic training, and before graduation, each student must meet a field work requirement by actual employment in the packing industry for a period equivalent to six months of regular employment. In this way the college training and practical work will be linked.

Women's Hands Are Growing Larger, Report

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—Larger grows the hand that rocks the cradle. A poll of Columbus glove counters revealed that the average glove sold to women now is size seven. Before the war the average size was five and one-half.

Feminine hands are growing in breadth but not in length the survey indicated.

The change is a result of more general participation in athletics, glove counter clerks believe.

CROWDS WATCH FISH IN ICE

And Then Guess How Long Blocks Will Last

Crowds before the Crowell-Gifford company's show window on Procter watched Monday the big amberjack which had been frozen in a solid block of ice as a part of the display of the Port Arthur Ice company and the Port Arthur Ice and Refrigeration company.

The fish was caught by President George C. of the Merchants' National bank and under specifications of Sam McFadden, superintendent of the Port Arthur branch, East Texas Electric railway. McFadden told Craig the size of fish he wanted, between 25 and 30 inches in length and the latter went forthwith and caught it.

Hundreds of guesses how long it will take to melt 300 pound cake of ice were received Monday. These will be assembled and the winner announced soon.

CANADIAN TAKES PATENT ON PUMP

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 13.—Employees of the well of the Shoshone Oil Development company on the Storm permit, in 4-34-36, Keweenaw-Sagehen field, vary all the way from 300 to 400 barrels. Pipe line has actually been running 1,000 barrels per day from the well. Test was completed in the Ellis sand at 1,500 feet. It is the largest well yet completed in Northern Montana, although late reports state it is making considerable water along with the oil.

"Tip" O'Neill and others, who are building a 2,500 barrel topping plant at Sunburst, will sell the topplings to the Imperial Oil Refinery Company, Ltd., at Calgary and the fuel oil to the Great Northern Railway.

Output of the Cat Creek field for May was 127,944 barrels.

Kidd-Russ Moves to Quarters on Procter

Moving Thursday of the Port Arthur branch of the Kidd-Russ Trunk and Box company from its present location on Austin to the business location formerly occupied by the Gougan Piano company in the 300 block on Procter brings to the main business section of the city an enterprise which Port Arthur has made to grow and demand larger quarters.

Kidd-Russ brand leather products are becoming known nationally. The Port Arthur store was established more than a year ago under the management of Mrs. L. C. Bushman. From the very first the concern has done a business which has shown weekly increases all the way.

The new building will be completed formally Thursday. With more room and facilities for handling the increasing trade, Mrs. Bushman confidently expects a continuation of the increasing trade enjoyed here since the company's removal here.

Cherries were introduced into England from Flanders in 1540.

Central Wins From North Side in Drizzle, 6-2

BELL, THOMPSON LEAD SWATTING

Cortey and Simonson Do Hurling Duty

CENTRAL Area continued its victorious pace, and strengthened its hammerlock on first place in the Texaco League yesterday by winning from North Side, 6 to 2. Many thought the game would not be played, but it was started in a steady drizzle that continued until far into the slow evening.

Johnny Noble, doing the umpiring, kept wiping off the ball with a towel. The players claimed it was his home training with the draftees that came in good stead.

Cortey did the pitching for Central yesterday, giving up five hits in the seven innings, while Simonson of North Side let Central have eight hits. Each team made a pair of errors.

Jimmy Bell Features

The feature of yesterday's game, so far as hitting went, was the crashing pace that the murderous Jimmy Bell set. The talkative catcher made one double and one single in two times at bat, leading being walked once. Jimmy's perfect hitting percentage yesterday gave him another boost in the league averages. "I claim I need it, too," says Jimmy, "because I've got a little understanding with a fellow on my batting average."

Thompson, a North Side recruit, playing right field, did right well, securing a pair of good hits in three times at bat.

Central started scoring early, running across a couple of centers in the first and coming back for any other run in the second. It was the fourth inning before North Side made a run come along and made a couple of runs in the same frame.

In the sixth episode Central scored once more, while North Side made a strong effort to rally in the final inning. But the attempt fell short at one run and the final score stood at 6 to 2.

White and Pink

By Feg Murray

Ernest Brandt, who was coach of the United States Olympic diving team, is at last reaping the rewards of years of patience, study and hard work. In 1910 Brandt was national diving champion of Sweden. In 1913 he took up the job of swimming coach at the University of California, where he developed the great Lady Langer. In 1915 he assumed the coaching job at Stanford university, where within the last nine years he has developed some of the greatest swimmers and divers in the world. Brandt started his career as a long career of breaking records, but it is in developing divers that he has shown his greatest ability.

The two American Olympic acts at Paris were Al White and Clarence Pinkston—both of whom pupils of Brandt's at Stanford university. Both boys have held national indoor and outdoor springboard championships. Each has defeated the other in competition, and each is a splendid tribute to the coaching of Ernest Brandt.

Clarence Pinkston won the high diving championship of the world at the 1920 Olympic games and his work is a wonderful example of grace and rhythm. Al White, who never took up diving until he came to Stanford in 1921, has been the National Indoor Springboard champion for the last three years and was Outdoor champion in 1922.

JACOBUS HOLDS BUFFS DOWN 8-2

Eight Passes Allowed but Jake Maintains Poise

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 13.—Big Jake Jacobus had Houston under ample control yesterday and Beaumont again won 8 to 2. Jacobus issued eight passes, but only one of these resulted in a run. A home run by Chick Hefey caused the other run. Joe Habbitt did some hard hitting for the Exposers, getting a triple, a double and a single in five times at bat. Stanbury negotiated three singles in five times up.

Crab double win.

San Antonio, Aug. 13.—Pilot Bob Coleman of San Antonio in the role of pinch hitter drove in the winning run in the second game after it looked as if Galveston would win a double header here. The Crabs took the first game 5 to 1 because of the effectiveness of Delaney who kept the Bear hits scattered while Galveston batted Couchman at will. The Bears won the second game 6 to 4.

Benny Leonard's Bout With Mickey Walker Up in Air

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Discussion for a "B" date for the Walker-Leonard welterweight championship fight will be carried on today between Jimmy Johnston, promoter, and the managers of Walker and Leonard.

Johnston, who has made the match for Aug. 20, was hopeful that the injury Leonard received in the bout with Pat Moran was not serious to hold the bout off for more than ten days but Leonard said he had been told that the torn ligaments in the thumb would not mend for a month.

Walker, the welterweight champion, signed the papers agreeing to post a $10,000 forfeit that he will meet Dave Shade, California, in his next match if he retains his title. Leonard probably will sign the agreement today.

Do you know Baseball?

QUESTIONS—

1. Can a player, after he acted as pinch-hitter, be used as a substitute runner? In a game between Chicago and Philadelphia this summer I saw Amos Strunk fill both roles for the Athletics—J. L. P.

2. Batter tops the ball and it strikes the ground in front of the plate, then rolls into foul territory down the third base line. Umpire calls foul ball and batsman remains in his box. The ball strikes something on the ground and rolls far. The umpire changes his original ruling to fair ball and batsman is thrown out at first. What should be done in such a situation?—H. A. H.

3. Runner on second base, one out. Runner starts to steal third on the pitch. It is wild and the ball escapes the catcher, going into the crowd back of the plate. The runner scores. Ground rule is one base on an overthrow going into crowd. Team at bat contends runner had base stolen and should be entitled to another base on the overthrow.—H. A. H.

ANSWERS—

1. After runner has been used as pinch-hitter and not put into the lineup, he is out for the rest of the game. In all probability, permission was granted Strunk by the Chicago club to be used as a pinch runner. Such a thing happens occasionally.

2. Umpire should have stuck to his original ruling, foul ball, even though it was fair. The batsman should not be made to suffer for the mistake.

3. Runner merely goes to third base. No consideration can be given the fact that he probably would have reached third in safety. The play starts with the pitch and, since he was on second, he can only advance to third on throw into the crowd.

Highway Program

In Texas Is Big

Texas has over 2,000 miles of state highway under construction, according to the reports received by the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. This includes 140 miles of concrete and brick pavements, 425 miles of asphaltic pavements, 1,190 miles of gravel and macadam roads and the remainder sand-clay, shell and earth roads. This large program is estimated to cost about $28,700,000 of which $13,300,000 is to be paid by the state and federal governments, leaving about $15,400,000 to be paid by the counties and road districts.

Last year 1,078.5 miles of state roads were completed in Texas at a cost of $10,037,821 but this year's work is expected to exceed these amounts by at least 50 per cent.

consumption has been 17,500,000 gallons, and unprecedented total. House issued an appeal Tuesday, night to citizens to be more sparing in their use of water until after the next heavy rain. A rain, House declared, would cut down the daily consumption 4,000,000 gallons and make it possible for the pumping plants to supply the city again.

BRIAR GATE GOLF CLUB

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., Aug. 13.—Two more rounds were to be played today in the junior western amateur golf championship, already here.

Another Day In the Majors

WALTER Johnson had the day to himself in the big leagues yesterday, his 4-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians being the only game scheduled. Big Walter yielded but five hits, all of them scattered. The win was the 100th shutout for Johnson and eight strikeouts won yesterday raised his all-time strikeout total to 3180. Smith allowed the Washingtonians nine hits, but they were enough to score four runs on. This Speaker was the only Cleveland player to have any luck with Johnson's delivery, nicking the veteran for a pair of singles in four times at bat.

All of the other American and National clubs had a rest with the exception of the Philadelphia Athletics and the Cincinnati Reds, who played an exhibition affair in Altoona, Pa. Earl Mark, son of the veteran Connie, was in charge of the A's and Cincy was defeated 4 to 3. Harris Gouyon and Briggs made up the Philadelphia battery, allowing ten hits, while the Red battery of May, Ma and Saniberg yielded but eight hits.

How to build up your Weight

To be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body flesh becomes firm, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
No. 6—WEENY ON AN ICEBERG

There was Weeny, the elephant.

Let's go and visit Mister and Mrs. Seal," said Weeny, the elephant. "The weather is getting warm here, and besides I hear that it's all the style to spend your vacation in the cold north." "Do seals live in the north?" asked Nick. "I should say so," said Weeny. "On icebergs or some place like that." "Then let's go there," said Nancy. "That would be a lot of fun." So Weeny fixed the things in his satchel and Nancy and Nick got up on his back and away they went toward the cold, cold north. After while they came to a place where there was a lot of ice, and sure enough, there was a little house with a sign on it which said, "Mister and Mrs. Seal—Their House." So Weeny stopped and rang the doorbell with his trunk. Mrs. Seal opened the door with one of her flippers and looked out. "Why, how do y' do," she said pleasantly. "If it isn't Weeny, the old circus elephant. Come here, Solomon, and say how do y' do to the Twins." Out came Mister Seal at that and said how nice it was to meet an old friend he'd never seen, and then he said how do y' do to the Twins, and everybody was happy. "We've come to spend part of our vacation if it's all the same to you," said Weeny. "Sure, come right in," said Mrs. Seal hospitably. Weeny looked at the tiny doorway and shook his head. "I guess I'll stay outside if you don't mind," he said. "But Nancy and Nick may go in if they wish. I'll go and take a sponge bath, pretty far and I'm pretty tired." "All right," said Mrs. Seal. "Come right in children, and I'll show you some circus posters of us doing our walking-act and our tight-rope act and our brass-band act and our fish-catching act." "Hurray!" cried Nick. "I'm glad I came." So in went Nancy and Nick to see the circus posters in Mister and Mrs. Seal's house. Weeny was very tired and soon he was snoring like old Whizzy Tornado on a sausage. He slept and slept and slept and all the time he was sleeping Nancy and Nick were looking at circus posters in Mister and Mrs. Seal's house. "Pretty soon, or I mean pretty late," Mrs. Seal folded up all the posters and put them away in the cupboard, where they kept all the things for their circus acts. "Now I'll see 'em," said Mrs. Seal. "Solomon, go and see if the elephant is comfortable, and ask him if he eats fish." Out went Mister Seal. In about two seconds, in came Mister Seal in a hurry. "He's gone!" he cried. "The place he was standing on was ice and it broke off and now it's floating away in the ocean." They all rushed out at that, and there was Weeny, the elephant, away out in the ocean on an iceberg—still sound asleep, for you could hear him snoring. "We're sorry but we can't stay a week, or even for lunch," said Nancy. "Goodby, Mister and Mrs. Seal. Nick bring the satchel and I'll follow poor Weeny on his travels." "All right," said Mrs. Seal. "I think the iceberg had reached Greenland before they caught up to him."

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

PEASANTS REVOLT AGAINST TAXES
In order to help cover the expenses of the church, people of the Middle Ages had to pay certain taxes called "tithes." The word "tithe" means a tenth-part.

Perhaps you will ask: "A tenth-part of what?" The answer is a tenth of wages and farmers' crops. Some families did not wool, butter and cheese. The servant must pay a tenth of his wages. The poor housewife must look after her eggs closely and count out every tenth one.

As a matter of fact, the church did not get all this. Some of it was taken by the lords and nobles who had the peasants in their charge. About a hundred and fifty years before Columbus sailed to America, the peasants of Europe began to revolt. They wanted a better life. There was a great deal of fighting especially in England and Germany. One of the leaders in England was named Wycliffe. He preached against the nobles. He said men should all be equal. A big revolt was started, but it was broken up.

Even though the English peasants lost out then, they gained in the long run. They began to have more freedom from taxes and "duties" to the lords.

One of the leaders in Germany was named Huss. When he was a young man, he played on a drum and bagpipes to make a living. One day he turned his drum and bagpipes before a big crowd. He said he was going to preach after that, instead of amusing people. Huss proved to be a good speaker. Many persons crowded around to hear him. These are some of the things he said:

"All men are brothers. The emperor is no better than we are. Some day he'll have to go to work. So will the nobles and the knights. They should earn their daily bread." While still a young man, he was condemned as a heretic. He was tied to a stake and burned to death.

Color Cut-Outs

Rose Has a Secret

"Let's go up and visit Rose and Roger," said Betty Cut-Out. "I do not want to go swimming again today, and it isn't too hot to go walking." "That's a fine idea," exclaimed Billy. "Come on." They found Rose out in front of the gardener's cottage busily watering her flowers. She told them that Roger was away. "He's gone down to the telephone office in the village," she explained, "because we're expecting news that has a lot to do with that poor little girl who lives with the mean old aunt, and whose father is in South America. I'm not going to tell you what our plan is. It's a secret, but you will know very soon." And she went on working, looking very mysterious indeed. Color Rose's dress blue and leave her apron white. DAVIS RETURNS TO NEW YORK

Will Confer Today With Senator Key Pittman

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Greatly encouraged by the reception tendered him at Clarkburg, John W. Davis returned to New York today ready to cooperate toward the vigorous campaign he has deemed "of his national committee."

During the day he will confer with Senator Key Pittman, of the democratic speakers' bureau and the itinerary for the speaking tour will be fixed. He will start his campaign with a speech at the democratic state convention in Columbus, Ohio, August 26.

Accompanied by Nye, the democratic nominee slipped into New York almost unnoticed. He was accompanied by Mrs. Davis and J. N. Nye and a retinue of secretaries. Several persons in the station recognized him as he left the train and shouted "Hello" and "Good luck," but there was no celebration of any sort. He went immediately to his headquarters.

Conferences with numerous party leaders are scheduled for today. Thomas J. Spillane, eastern campaign manager, has one of the first appointments.

After the day's conference, Davis plans to go to his home at Locust Valley, L. I., taking with him a brief of data gathered for the speaking tour. Plans now call for Davis to spend most of the time between now and the Columbus, Ohio, speech in preparing the addresses he is to deliver on the speaking tour. The itinerary of the tour will be made public within a few days, it was announced.

KNIGHTS LANDING, Cal., Aug. 13.—Only two bodies of the score or more of nameless wanderers believed burned to death when fire destroyed a great hay warehouse on the property of the River Gardens farms company near here had been recovered this morning.

The tons of matted hay, which burst into flames Monday night at the touch of a carelessly discarded match, continue to smolder, frustrating every attempt of Yolo county authorities to learn the exact toll of life taken in the spectacular destruction of "hobo hotel."

Couldn't Catch Fish; "Lady Luck" Brings Fortune

CALDWELL, N. J., Aug. 12.—For years "Speck" Travis was known among the youngsters of this section as the unluckiest fisherman in nine counties. His tough fishing luck was a tradition.

But "Lady Luck" is now camping on his trail. "Specks," a freckled high school lad of 18, was working with a road gang for $3 a day to pay his way through school when tragedy threw a fortune of $150,000 in his lap.

His grandfather, Charles Blunt, old time circus man, shot and killed his housekeeper and then ended his own life recently. "Specks" was his grandfather's pet and the one-time "man fish" and high diver of the circus left "specks" the fortune accumulated over many years.

"But 'Specks' sticks to his school job. 'I need the exercise and I shall not get the money for a while,' he says. 'When I do, I'll go into business, I guess. I've always wanted to monkey with automobiles.'"

Men on Inside Block Efforts of Man-Hunt, Claims Noted Officer

DENTON, Texas, Aug. 13.—"I would have gotten the whole bunch of 'em in four months instead of five years if the officers everywhere I went hadn't double crossed me," was the statement made last week by J. Frank Norflett of Hall Center, famous man hunter, in telling the Denton Rotarians at their luncheon at the College of Industrial Arts of his many thrilling exploits.

"I found 'em bought off in many of the larger towns," was Norflett's comment, "and I had to fight them about as hard as I did the man I was after."

Norflett recounted a score of amazing situations in which he found himself during the period of his intensive search for the man who swindled him out of $45,000. These situations were replete with the intrigue and chicanery of the guardians of law.

Norflett's story, too, embodied the plea for suitable rearing of children. He quoted Joe Furey, now dead, but the alleged leader of the bunco ring, as an example of what improper environment for children may effect. Furey, he said, attributed his life of crime to his surroundings as a child. The trend of the west, as Norflett termed the philosophy which governs his life, directed some amusement from his listeners. "Treat the other fellow right," was his terse comment. "and then, by heavens, make him treat you right!"

RURAL STUDENTS FORM BIGGEST U. S. GROUP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—No other large group of the nation has so many children as the farm group. C. J. Galpin of the department of agriculture, told members of the department of rural education of the National Educational association.

There are 12.9 per cent more persons under 21 years in the farm population than in any equivalent population group dwelling in the cities of the United States, the speaker asserted. Pointing to the few children in the cities as compared with the rural districts, Mr. Galpin indicated this is one of the big problems which education must solve.

HUSBAND THRASHES ADMIRER OF WIFE

EDINBURGH, Aug. 13.—David Dunbar Brown, an architect of London, was granted a divorce by Lord Ashmore in the Edinburgh Court of Sessions.

In 1905, Mr. Brown stated, he married a widow, Mrs. J. G. G. La Frange, who had three children. In 1905 she went on a trip to India, and it was apparent on her return that her affections had been alienated. Soon afterward he found in her bureau a number of letters written to her by a man in India, in terms which astounded him.

Next year, Mr. Brown continued, he went to India and interviewed the man.

Lord Ashmore: "Did you challenge him with his conduct?"

Mr. Brown: "No, my lord; I gave him a horsewhipping."

Lord Ashmore: "Oh, is that the way you spoke to him?"

Mr. Brown: "I thrashed him there in front of his clerks."

The judge: "You seem to me to have behaved like a right-minded man and husband."

middle. When we'd gone about three miles, I saw Emil raise his hand and point to a car on the road.

"He was wondering here, but I didn't know it. I had I would have tried to stop him. Cora didn't cry out. I didn't see her make any resistance."

And Zupke told Sheriff Bridgeman that Florence's story was correct. At first he had told a slightly different tale.

"We were alone in the car," he first said. "I told Cora I had to marry Florence because I loved her. And Cora said:

"Zupke Tells of Slaying
"Then get me out of this car," I said."

Zupke today still insisted that Cora had asked him to get her "out of the car."

Zupke and Florence were to have been married Sunday—the day the body was found. It was also Zupke's 25th birthday.

"But after that murder I knew I could never marry Florence," the youth said.

Miss McKinney declared she had wanted to tell of the crime.

"It weighed heavily," I did tell Lawrence O. of Bridgeman about it, but he advised me to keep quiet for a little while."

County authorities were looking for the youth today. Zupke's father, a prominent farmer, had recently turned him away from home. It was said for "drinking all night and sleeping all day." Since then Zupke had worked in a factory at Beaton Harbor.

Walton, Ferguson Stage Comeback

It is psychology that guides a political comeback.
On it is just a series of coincidences that enable men, once banished from the political arena, to climb back into power through the votes of the electorate.
Texas and Oklahoma, now present a problem for political students. The former may have a woman governor, Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson, wife of "Farmer Jim" Ferguson, who was banished by the state legislature, while Oklahoma may have Jack Walton as United States senator. Walton was recently impeached for alleged irregularities in office.

The political situation in the two states is parallel. First there is the Klan and anti-Klan political feud. The Fergusons and Walton have been bitter enemies of the Klan. Walton's only campaign argument was a bitter denunciation of the invisible empire which he charged "framed" him in order to cause his impeachment.

His assumed sympathy, in Texas, for the Klan, Ferguson took the lead by Mr. Walton's assailed the Klan's reputation. His wife, the candidate, derived the benefit at the primary and was second choice.

"Farmer Jim" also went to his tenant farmer friends in behalf of his wife. It was he that promised to protect these farmers from rent raisers. Today Ferguson with the tenant farmer is not a candidate; he is a politician, which was up nearly 100,000 votes for "Jim" Ferguson.
Both Jim and Jack are arrested "wags," but Mrs. Ferguson is an ardent prohibitionist.
Humiliated by state legislatures through impeachment, these two men may be again returned to power.

was waged in the fight between Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes, the campaign was said. The odds were as quoted by J. S. Fred and Company, betting commission.
Plenty of money on President Coolidge at 3 to 1.
That is 1 to 12 or 1 to 1.
Robert M. La Follette, very little money off and that at odds of about 1 to 12.

The man who drives a car without carrying enough liability insurance takes a long chance. 'POCKET BOOK' A CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Coolidge Pledges Rigid Enforcement of LWS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—President Coolidge held the "pocket book" is paramount in the coming campaign. Straightforward declarations for more economy in government and reduction of taxation, it was learned from those close to him today, will constitute his main effort against the issues launched by his opponents.

From wasteful extravagance in government and attendant high taxation he believes all economic evils flow.
Mr. Coolidge is said to regard the "honesty in government issue" made paramount by Davis as too self evident and fundamental to require emphasis. The president in past speeches and actions has pledged himself to rigid enforcement of the law and prosecution of offenders against the government and there he is willing to let the matter rest. He does not believe in making a virtue of being virtuous.

All preparations for the notification ceremonies here tomorrow night are complete. Chairman Butler of the republican national committee has gone to great pains to make it a democratic non exclusive affair.
Although it will be held in the Continental Hall, scene of the disincantment conference, with a capacity of only 2,500, seats have been reserved for only a few of those closely associated with the campaign, and personal friends of the president.

The rest are to be open to the public. Amplifiers have been installed to relay the president's speech to crowds in the park across the street. Radio facilities will circulate the speech to 25,000,000, according to the estimate of Butler.

Man Held for Wife's Murder While Mourning

COLUMBIA, Tenn., Aug. 12.—Standing near the cyclist containing the body of his wife who had been murdered under mysterious circumstances, W. Lee Grant, prominent business man, was arrested charged with her death.
Grant was mourning with friends when arrested early today by Sheriff Andrew B. Ewans.

15-YEAR-OLD-YOUTH SHOWS ART PROMISE

MOSCOW, Aug. 12.—An Russian is stirred by the romance of Peter Mirovov, a 15-year-old peasant, who has been hailed as one of the greatest artists of the day by M. M. Malin, the most famous painter in Russia.

A government engineer named Tourman discovered the boy barefoot and in rags, sitting by the side of a small stream in the Ural Mountains. He seemed from a distance to be gazing alternately into the face of a girl and then at a curious object which lay before him.

M. Tourman stopped to behold a wonderful life size figure of a girl's head molded in rough clay and the image of the girl who sat a few feet away.
"But I can draw much better," declared the boy and he produced a small book of sketches. They were as remarkable as the figure in clay.

AROUND THE WORLD CYCLIST IN SYRIA

BAGDAD, Aug. 12.—The free Indian soldiers belonging to the Second Battalion, Bombay Pioneers, who are endeavoring to cycle around the world, have left Bagdad for the most difficult stage of their journey, across the Syrian desert, where they will have to endure a scorching heat as intense as the biting cold which they experienced in the highlands of Afghanistan and Persia. During their stay in Bagdad, they were received by King Faisal and the high commissioner, and were entertained by the Bagdad Indian association.
The cyclists left Bombay on Oct. 15, 1923, and so far have covered about 5,000 miles. For considerable distances, owing to lack of roads and to the marshy conditions of the country, they were obliged to proceed on foot.
